Summary of Article Overviews on the Predictive Policing System ①–⑬ (500-character version)

Predictive Policing System ①: The Arrival of an Era in Which Sending Is Blocked Just by Thinking, and AI Conditions and Controls People (Unfinished Version)

The Overall Picture and the Fact That “Prediction” Is Actually Domination

Using reports of interference such as likes and reposts disappearing on X, errors appearing when posting, and accounts being locked, this organizes the overall picture of the predictive policing system. It also gives the example of hearts disappearing on posts related to Princess Aiko, showing that interference with posting and interference with expression is happening close to home. It touches on group lynching of people who oppose war or point out naphtha shortages, the structure in which financial rewards distort facts in the AV industry and historical revisionism, and the staging of consent through enormous advertising budgets. The core is the phenomenon in which, within several hundred milliseconds after a thought, communication is cut, devices freeze, the stomach growls, or strange odors occur. It explains this in five layers: brainwave detection, edge processing on devices and routers, intent detection by AI, physical blocking, and learned helplessness that makes people give up. It cites the example of Palantir and ICE, and from the fact that the sound of an outside ambulance or airplane is physically impossible to produce immediately, it views the system as AI issuing commands in advance and synchronizing them with thoughts. Finally, it positions prediction as domination in name only—a system that prevents opposition and resistance before they occur.

Predictive Policing System ②: The Mechanism of Human Body Hacking (Unfinished Version)

The Structure in Which Righteous People Are Repressed and Even Physical Symptoms Are Monitored

As background for why people who say the right thing are more likely to be repressed, it cites sanctions against UN rapporteurs and ICC judges and threats and harassment against victims of the Epstein case. It organizes the flow in which victims are labeled “crazy” or “liars” and isolated. In human body hacking, it states that insects, crows, stalking, drowsiness while driving, eye discharge, blurred vision, throat discomfort, palpitations, strange odors, muscle spasms, stomach growling, flatulence, and abdominal pain occur. These link with thoughts and speech and appear in forms that make the person aware of surveillance, such as construction noise, ambulances, unknown-number calls, and increases or decreases in customers at supermarkets. Because sounds become louder when earplugs are inserted, it considers that the system adjusts based on reactions. The body is divided into voluntary and involuntary parts, and when automatic parts are manipulated from outside, document preparation and litigation preparation are obstructed. It touches on control through magnetic nanoparticles and magnetic fields, remote sensing said to be Ghost Murmur in the 2026 invasion of Venezuela, and the mysterious deaths of 32 Cuban soldiers, showing the possibility that predictive policing will expand to the military level.

Predictive Policing System ③: The Mechanism by Which “Magnetic Nanoparticles” Control the Brain and Body (Unfinished Version)

NANO-Mind, MENPs, Insect and Animal Manipulation, and the Trick of Advance Commands

As the history of human domination by intelligence agencies, it cites MKUltra, Unit 731, and the Epstein files, and organizes the fact that document destruction and redaction became issues at the 2026 hearings. NANO-Mind is a technology that remotely controls mouse appetite and maternal behavior using magnetized nanoparticles and magnetic fields, enabling control of brain regions without surgery and wirelessly. Because magnetic nanoparticles can enter the body through food and vaccines, it states that if a dictatorial regime misuses them, it can build a foundation for manipulation without being noticed. MENPs mutually convert magnetic fields and electric fields and enable bidirectional BCI that reads and writes brain signals. MPI can monitor the movement of particles, and like TMS, magnetic fields can cause convulsions. It explains the pathway by which smart houses and digital twins control electric currents and magnetic fields and artificially cause stomach growling, diarrhea, strange odors, palpitations, and throat discomfort. It states that behavioral control of insects and dogs and cats is also possible at the research level, and organizes that external anomalies occurring within several hundred milliseconds are because AI issues commands in advance and uses thoughts as a synchronization signal. It also touches on social engineering that moves people around through Pokémon GO-type rewards.

Predictive Policing System ④: The Mechanism of Health Damage and “Simple Countermeasures” — Persecution of Citizens Through State Terrorism (Unfinished Version)

The Mechanisms of 10 Symptoms, Everyday Countermeasures, and the History of State Terrorism

It organizes the mechanisms by which magnetic nanoparticles and magnetic fields can cause back pain, joint pain, blurred vision, muscle spasms, itchy skin, heart attacks, cerebral hemorrhage, constipation, sleep disorders, and colon cancer. Back pain involves amplification of pain signals in the spinal cord, the inhibitory function of the medulla oblongata, and manipulation of the autonomic nervous system. Joint pain stimulates TRPV1 and advances inflammation and cartilage destruction. Blurred vision is explained by intervention in the retina and visual cortex, muscle spasms by mechanical stimulation of calcium channels, and itching by histamine release from mast cells. Heart attacks are explained by CaV1.2 and autonomic ganglion plexuses, cerebral hemorrhage by loosening of the blood-brain barrier and weakening of blood vessel walls, constipation by suppression of intestinal peristalsis, sleep disorders by accumulation in orexin neurons, and colon cancer by DNA damage from reactive oxygen species and chronic inflammation. Symptoms are divided into mixed type, voluntary-dominant, and involuntary-dominant. As countermeasures, it introduces lead shielding against radiation, water absorption of microwaves, stopping the car for drowsiness while driving, water towels, gel pads, tilting the neck 45 degrees, and attaching a rechargeable battery behind the neck. It also touches on South American death squads, the Dirty War, and death caravans, and considers the structure in which the state harms its citizens.

Predictive Policing System ⑤: State Terrorism and Bullying Have the Same Structure — Decoding the “Invisible Disguise” of Perpetrator Organizations (Unfinished Version)

Invisible Perpetrator Organizations, Ordinary People Moved by Rewards, and the Six Phases

It organizes the reasons why perpetrator organizations are invisible: outsourcing to the private sector, disguise as cults or religions, and multilayer firewalls. It explains the structure in which Palantir was founded with CIA In-Q-Tel funding immediately after TIA was stopped by Congress, and provides ImmigrationOS and ELITE under contract with ICE. In Japan as well, it cites the example of a security company advised by a former Superintendent General of the Tokyo Metropolitan Police Department being involved in creating a list of opponents to the Henoko relocation. Ordinary people join in perpetration for rewards, and it introduces Israeli bounties and surveillance networks, a game in which soldiers' faces are photographed, and the example of a right-wing activist receiving 700,000 yen a month in the Kansai Ready-Mixed Concrete incident. It also touches on the history of the CIA using criminals as pawns and using them in exchange for covering up their crimes. The organization is a pyramid like the demons in Demon Slayer, where the top blows the dog whistle and moves the bottom through rewards and approval. It overlays the Nazi design of division of labor and euphemism that erases guilt onto the present. Bullying proceeds through a four-layer structure and six phases of organized targeting—selection, surveillance, stalking, destruction of credibility, attack, and continuous surveillance—and organizes that the profits of exploitation support the perpetration.

Predictive Policing System ⑥: The Fear of Being Monitored — Why “Decent People” Are Driven to Suicide or Betrayal (Unfinished Version)

Emotion Surveillance That Drives People to Suicide, Special Tactics, and the Danger of Thought Surveillance

It explains that gang stalking can drive people to suicide because it monitors emotions and thoughts in real time and can attack at the moment of fear, sadness, anger, or resignation. It organizes the tactics of monitoring the timing of construction noise, ambulances, reckless motorcycles, and deliveries, and when the person blocks the sound with earplugs, making the sound louder to make them feel there is no escape. It also touches on methods of startling people with insects, animals, and silent phone calls, and the danger that the logic “it is right because the enemy dislikes it” justifies perpetration. It cites the course of the Hyogo Prefecture whistleblower document issue, in which whistleblowers and the legislators who pursued the matter died and the perpetrators were not prosecuted, and states that this functions as a warning. It organizes Palantir’s anti-communist values, support for Israel, and the structure in which decent people and internal whistleblowers are chosen as victims. As special tactics, it explains the glare of oncoming car headlights through two routes—the light source side and the receiver side—and explains story theater, false flag operations, and echo chambers that create fabricated victim images and hide the true culprit. Finally, it presents five dangers of thought surveillance: emotional manipulation, perfect gaslighting, grasping weaknesses, preemptive domination, and torture design.

Predictive Policing System ⑦: The “Ruler Psychology” That Makes Communication Impossible, Created by “Brain-to-Brain Communication,” and Countermeasures Against Nanoparticles (Unfinished Version)

The Psychology in Which Surveillance Superiority Destroys Empathy, N3 Technology, and Defenses You Can Start Today

It explains that when brain-to-brain communication allows monitoring of the other person's thoughts and emotions, uncertainty disappears, negotiation becomes unnecessary, and the person begins to measure the timing of surrender and continue attacking. A sense of power and omnipotence, dehumanization, zero-sum thinking, and sadism overlap, and empathy declines as the room for imagination is lost. Moral exemption, self-selection, closed environments, and feedback from successful experiences reinforce the ruler temperament. On the technical side, it touches on DARPA's Silent Talk program, the N3 program, BrainSTORMS, reading and writing through magnetoelectric nanotransducers, and N3 introduced on NHK's Close-Up Gendai. As countermeasures, it lists N95 masks to reduce inhalation, air purifiers, nasal irrigation, the three 60 rules for earphones and smartphones (60 minutes a day, 60% volume, no more than 60 minutes continuously), device management in the bedroom, protective fabrics against magnetic and silver nanoparticles, dietary fiber and water, exercise, antioxidants, understanding environmental magnetic field sources, and recording symptoms and communication failures. It organizes that complete defense is difficult and that knowing and recording are the first acts of resistance.

Predictive Policing System ⑩: The History of Brain-to-Brain Communication Technology Development and the Mechanism of the “Two-Polarization of Perpetrators and Victims” (Unfinished Version)

Eighty Years of Research and the Difference in Nanoparticles Between Perpetrators and Victims

It organizes that brain-to-brain communication is not a delusion but a technology researched for more than 80 years, from Cold War-era MKUltra and Project Copperhead to DARPA's Silent Talk program, the N3 program, and current nanoparticle bidirectional BCI. MKUltra aimed at mind control through LSD and hypnosis, related documents were destroyed in 1973, and redactions remain at the 2026 hearings. Silent Talk was a plan to read brain signals before speech with EEG and communicate without speaking. N3 connects the brain and machines bidirectionally without surgery, and BrainSTORMS' magnetoelectric nanotransducers convert the brain's electrical signals into magnetic signals and exchange them with an external headset. N3 was declared complete, but details are unknown. The perpetrator organization has a pyramid structure of intelligence agencies, command centers, N3 soldiers, bystander collaborators, bystanders, and victims. Perpetrators communicate bidirectionally through magnetoelectric nanotransducers, while victims receive one-sided physical attacks through iron oxide magnetic nanoparticles. Communication and attack are not separate technologies but two sides of the same technology, and it positions them as the foundation supporting the polarization of winners and losers.

Predictive Policing System ⑪: The Terrifying “Communication” Method with Invisible Perpetrators — The Structure of Domination Created by Thought Surveillance and Physical Attacks (Unfinished Version)

Synchronization of Thoughts with Sound and Physical Attacks, Conditioning, and Enclosure

It explains, through the same invisible design as bullying, why only the victim can sense the perpetrator's message even though the perpetrator's identity is unknown.

Threatening without showing one's face is for staging consent, and while monitoring emotions and thoughts, the most effective attack continues until the person obeys. In sound attacks, MENPs convert brain activity into magnetic signals, and AI decodes them in real time. N3 soldiers share the victim's thoughts through brain-to-brain communication and issue advance commands to airplanes overhead, reckless motorcycles, ambulances, and others after calculating the sound propagation time for each distance. Because the sound arrives at the moment the victim thinks of whistleblowing, counterattacking, escaping, or seeking help, the brain links specific thoughts with unpleasant stimuli, producing self-censorship and learned helplessness. On trains and buses, repetition, gazes, positioning, mirroring, smartphones and coughing, matching alighting, and sudden stops make the person aware of surveillance. In body hacking, stomach growling, diarrhea, and strange odors are caused, and digital enclosure is created by cutting communications. When there is no escape, the perpetrator reveals their true nature and makes the person choose self-destruction voluntarily through conditioning. It also organizes the front and back of the perpetrator organization and the mechanism that erases guilt.

Predictive Policing System ⑫: Why Do “People Who Do the Right Thing” Become Victims? — The Brain-to-Brain Communication Network That Manufactures War, Terrorism, and Election Fraud (Unfinished Version)

Why Righteous People Become Victims and the Structure of Election Manipulation

It states a position of whistleblowing to save lives based on moral justice. Victims do not understand why they are targeted, and even if they appeal to the police, government, lawyers, or the media, they are betrayed along the way and the matter is treated as if it never happened. Behind this, it considers there to be a brain network that monitors thoughts, acts ahead, and pressures the relevant parties. Perpetrator organizations disguise themselves as cults or virtues and blend into daily life, such as the Japan Conference, the Unification Church, and Christian evangelicals. The echo chamber of brain-to-brain communication shares thoughts themselves without language, leaving no room for rebuttal. Real-time surveillance intervenes before action, and motorcycle couriers, ambulances, and construction workers blend into daily life and apply pressure. It increases perpetrators through rewards and chains of complicity—if you want to be a winner, cooperate—and brain-to-brain communication is convenient for the military-industrial complex as a war-manufacturing weapon that leaves no evidence. Righteous people are put on a blacklist, and justice and evil are reversed. The reason war does not stop is that predictive policing prevents resistance before it occurs. In election fraud, it cites buying off election management committees and vote-counting managers, statistical manipulation, AI videos, threats, transnational far-right networks in South America, sanctions against the ICC, and suspicions of public opinion manipulation by the Takaichi camp in Japan. It organizes that knowing, recording, and discussing are the first defenses.

Predictive Policing System ⑬: “Invisible Violence” Using Nanoparticles and the “Transhumanism” That Polarizes Humanity (Unfinished Version)

Graphene Oxide and Magnetic Nanoparticles, the History of Eugenics, and the Useless Class

Graphene oxide is a carbon-based sheet that provides a site for chemical reactions and has no magnetic properties, while magnetic nanoparticles are iron oxide particles that can be remotely controlled by magnetic fields. Magnetic graphene oxide, which combines the two, has both chemical bonding ability and magnetic manipulation ability and accumulates in the liver, spleen, and lungs for long periods. Magnetic nanoparticles also collect heavily in the liver and spleen, and PEG modification can prolong circulation in the body. Invisible violence is divided into direct violence, structural violence, and cultural violence, and has become more sophisticated as gaslighting, moral harassment, algorithmic discrimination, and surveillance capitalism. When thoughts and emotions are monitored, attacks occur at the moment hope begins or just before seeking help, and people can be driven to suicide. Eugenics thought is easily confused with the concept of the chosen people in the Epic of Gilgamesh and the Old Testament, and leads to Galton's eugenics, forced sterilization in the United States, Nazi T4 operations, and the imperial ideology and massacres of the Empire of Japan. After the war, eugenics was rebranded as transhumanism and continued through Huxley, cryonics, extropianism, NBIC, Kurzweil, and Neuralink. It organizes the manipulation of consciousness and memory, cyborg soldiers with cybernetic brains, H. G. Wells's two human species, Harari's useless class, fascist groups that cannot be rebutted through brain-to-brain communication, the blacklisting of righteous people, and the structure in which war does not stop.

Predictive Policing System ⑧: Nanoparticles That Manipulate the Human Body Even with Electric Fields — A Future in Which Complete Surveillance Makes Elections Impossible and the Far Right Rules (Unfinished Version)

Piezoelectric and Electric-Field-Responsive Particles, 2 V/m and 148 V/m, and Elections Under Surveillance

It reports the experience that after the blog was published, attacks decreased when electric and magnetic fields were reduced to zero inside a simple Faraday cage, but afterward stomach growling began to occur with an electric field of 2 V/m. Not only magnetic nanoparticles but also piezoelectric nanoparticles generate electricity through ultrasound and stimulate the vagus nerve, and electric-field-responsive nanoparticles generate current directly through an external electric field and stimulate intestinal nerves and smooth muscle. It considers that 2 V/m is near the threshold for peripheral nerve stimulation and moves the intestines through the vagus nerve reflex, while 148 V/m directly stimulates calcium channels in smooth muscle and nanoparticles in the body to cause contraction. It also touches on the experience that wrapping a water-soaked sponge around the waist reduced pain during obstruction of going out, and on something like precipitated powder. N3 soldiers can read the other person's movement readiness potential and emotions and act ahead of them, so under complete, immediate, and area-wide surveillance, normal elections become difficult to hold. By grasping opposition party thoughts in advance and acting ahead, spreading a fabricated image of the opposition through echo chambers, managing voting motivation, obstructing social media posts, and knowing election results in advance, the far right becomes advantaged.

Predictive Policing System ⑨: Is the “Gang Stalking” That Terrorizes Ordinary Citizens the Urban Warfare of “N3 Soldiers”? (Unfinished Version)

Siege and Intimidation of Everyday Spaces, the Security Business, and Invisible Violence

The perpetrator side has multiple manipulation channels such as electric fields, magnetic fields, ultrasound, and light, and it considers that N3 soldiers use predictive capability in everyday spaces. In motorcycle pursuit, they read the movement readiness potential and get ahead before a course change, and multiple soldiers coordinate through brain-to-brain communication to encircle the target. In convoy operations, the lead, parallel, rear, disguised ambulance, oncoming cars, and drones overhead divide roles, and when they read intent to counterattack or escape, they intimidate with sirens and instill self-censorship. In supermarkets and Daiso, AI sends missions to people nearby, customers suddenly increase and follow the target or form lines, and when shopping ends, they recede like the tide. Construction noise, deliveries, circling overhead, and low-altitude flights are also used for conditioning that pretends to be coincidence in time with thoughts. Surveillance and harassment become a pretext for the security business, and repression produces backlash, and backlash justifies budgets, creating a cycle. It also touches on facial recognition and surveillance in Palestine and everyday harassment as a warning. It explains skin cuts through oxidative stress, cell membrane destruction by electric fields, and unconscious scratching, and organizes that detecting nanoparticles in urine and feces and using metal shielding require distinguishing electric fields from magnetic fields.
